This program will help students to explore career interests. In order to achieve this vision, we will need assistance from employers as well as employees. We would like to educate our students about the vast career opportunities that are available to them and the skills required for them to be successful in today's global economy. This day would also help inform our students about the abundant diversity of jobs that they may currently be unaware of, and possibly find interest in. This may also assist our students in future course selection, and college and career planning.

Presentations may vary upon how you would like to share your profession. However, it is recommended that you share the following information:

- how you found your career (include prior careers/employment experiences)
- your educational background (education/training/credentials)
- your typical day at work
- the potential for growth in your field of work
- the keys to success in your career
- allow for questions from our students at the conclusion of your presentation.

This program may be as fulfilling for you as we believe it will be for our students. We are looking forward to your assistance in making our Career Day a success here at NVD, and thank you for considering this opportunity.

Sincerely,

Timothy D. Gouraige, Ed. D.
